Park Mansions, Knightsbridge, SW1X 7QS

Park Mansions is situated within the Knightsbridge Green Conservation Area and holds notable historic significance as the former Burberry flagship store. Its distinctive triangular footprint creates a prominent corner presence, with elevated views across one of London's most exclusive retail districts.

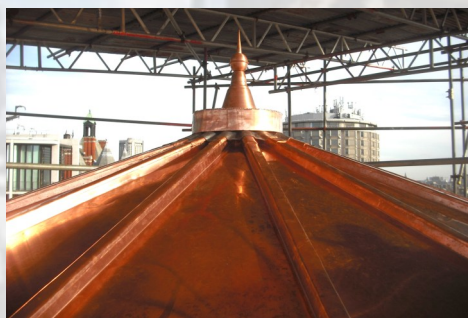

Triton Restoration was appointed by Parkgate Aspen as Principal Contractor to carry out repair and redecoration works to the Knightsbridge and Brompton Road elevations. Working within a conservation context, our team adopted a carefully sequenced approach to protect existing fabric while delivering a high quality external refurbishment. The scope included repairs to chimney pots, re slating of the roof, and remedial works to the roof cheeks and dormers, with associated repairs to ensure long term weathering performance.

Works included renewing the decothane coating to the asphalt balcony roofs and primary level roofs, improving its durability and waterproofing while maintaining the building's existing appearance. During the repair and recovery of the copper turret feature, intrusive inspections identified extensive decay within the underlying timber structure. In response, significant timber renewal was undertaken to reinstate structural integrity, followed by re cladding of the copper turret to complete the restoration of this prominent architectural element.
